

Oberstein Road

This new home completes a row of Victorian terraced houses on a previously disused site. The carefully resolved façade is designed to complement the scale of the adjoining properties. Landscaped terraces and planting to the front and side enhance the streetscape. The interior features a large open plan living area leading on to a lower terrace, master bedroom and roof terrace with views of the surrounding area. The highly sustainable specification includes innovative energy conserving technology.